THE Board of Editors, representing the Class of 1907 of Phillips Academy, Andover, presents in this, the fifteenth volume of the Pot-Pourri and the eleventh volume of the Senior Class Book.

¶ Five years ago the Pot-Pourri and the Class Book, heretofore published in separate volumes, were combined, and as the plan has met with success, it has since been continued.

¶ In this volume we have not slighted the department of "Grinds", and we hope they will be taken in the spirit in which they are given; we have undertaken in all things to interpret the opinion of the school, and to give, as far as we may, a little of the atmosphere of school life on Andover Hill.

¶ In conclusion we would thank all who, by word of suggestion or by their support in the more practical form of work, have shown an interest in our annual.

CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED AND SEVEN

Classical Department

Harold Gladstone Averill

Aroused much curiosity in Bangor, Maine, April 24, 1886, but since then has spent much of his time, at intervals, in Andover, expounding Huxley's interpretation of the Darwinian Theory. He finds his audience unappreciative, however, and is going to Harvard to try again.

Means Speaker Draper Speaker
Treasurer of Philo Alternate Philo Debating Team

Paul Bradford Badger

"BADGE"

Was born at Winchester, Mass., July 29, 1888, where he succeeded in keepiug himself busy till the fall of 1906 when he came to Andover, because as he says it is the best there is. "Badge" is a fine fellow and has made many friends during his year here. Yale.

Φ. Λ. Σ. Class Football

Joseph Wickliffe Beach

"JOE"

Was born in Cambridge, Mass., July 13, 1889, but now lives in Bangor, where his father is president of the Theological Seminary. "Joe" has only been with us one year, and will go to Yale.

William Griswold Beach

"BILLY"

Commenced to talk May 27, 1885, in New York City but since the noise was so loud he couldn't be heard, moved to Auburn, where he now lives. "Billy" is a fine singer and a bright fellow and has been known to cut ice in the fussing line.

Glee Club (2 years) First Draper Prize

Clifton Cromwell Clough

"CLIFF"

Startled the inhabitants of Vineyard Haven, Mass., on Nov. 9, 1888. In 1903 he was seized with a desire for learning (?) and came to Andover, where he has broadened out considerably. "Cliff" is a steady hard worker in school life, and also something of a jollier. Yale will be large enough to take care of him.

2nd Football Team Football Team
Track Team Class Football
Captain Winning Class Basketball Class Baseball

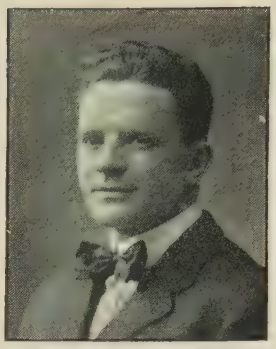
Frederick Joseph Daly

"FRED"



First carried the "pigskin" down the field in Cambridge, Mass., December 19, 1886, and has improved steadily in his ability to do so ever since. It takes something like a stone wall to stop "Cap" when he gets going, and an Exeter "paper blockade" is like so much loose straw in a hurricane. "Fred" is a first-class fellow and an all-round athlete. We wish him all kinds of success at Yale.

II. A. E.	Baseball Team (3 years)
Captain Football Team	President of Class
Football Team (3 years)	President of School
School Relay Team	Student Council (3 years)
President of Student Council
Class Statistician	Winning Class Basketball

Cabot Daniels

Opened his lips March 11, 1889, and edified the inhabitants of York, Neb., with a stream of wisdom. Cabot has an ambition to read everything worth reading, and has made a good start. Harvard will keep him busy for four years.

Sherwood Sunderland Day

"ANY"

Became an ornament to Catskill, New York, April 18, 1887. Sherwood came to Andover three years ago, and has been active in every kind of school life since. He is a hard worker and a fine fellow. We expect to hear much from him at Yale.

K. O. A.	Senior Reception Committee
Undergraduate Treasurer	Class Prophet
President of Inquiry	Means Speaker
President of Dramatic Club	Draper Speaker
Junior "Prom." Committee	Police Force
Phillipian Board

Orville Rich Dunn

"ORVE"

Woke up January 21, 1888, at Champlain, N. Y., and raised a great commotion by shouting "Jordeh" at the top of his voice. After he had thought it "over and over he decided to come to Andover",* and we are all glad he did. "Orve" is one of the best of fellows, and will undoubtedly be successful at Yale.

Class Football Class Baseball

*The Board is not responsible for this joke

Chester Thompson Ewell

"CHET"

Looked out meekly on Winthrop, Mass., December 4, 1888, but has now acquired some courage through combats with "Charlie" Forbes. "Chet" is a good worker and will undoubtedly do well at Harvard.

Newton Hinckley Foster

"NEWT"

The "most original" man in the class was born in Bar Harbor, Maine, May 30, 1889. "Newt" came here three years ago and has managed to keep rather busy ever since. Harvard.

Managing Editor Pot-Pourri and Class Book, 1907

Means Speaker (2nd prize) Class Poet
Means Speaker (3rd prize) Dramatic Club
Captain Chess Team Mandolin Club
Chess Team (2 years) Draper Speaker (2 years)

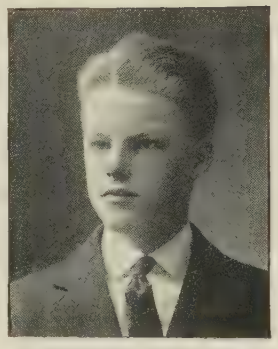
Howard Tallmadge Foulkes

Made his first bright remark October 14, 1888, in Fond du lac, Wisconsin, but has moved to Milwaukee. He quotes from Virgil in giving his opinion of the Fem. Sems.: "Varium et mutabile semper Fem. Sem." Mirabile dictu! Yale.

Potter Speaker.



Howard Brooks Freeman

"FREE"

Outwitted Santa Claus, arriving December 23, 1889. Santa always brings good things, and "Free" followed his example in coming to Andover. He has been here only one year, but has made good. Yale.

A. Γ. X. Class Gym. Team

Henry Gemmer

"HENRY"

Delivered his first debate August 28, 1876, in New York City, and then moved to Hackensack, N. J., to recuperate. "Henry" is one of the hardest working and most sincere fellows in school, and we wish him the best of success at Yale.

Debating Team (2 years) Potter Speaker
Andover–Exeter Debating Team Second Means Prize
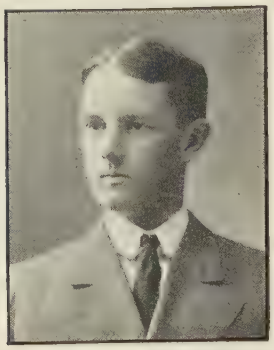
Forum Debating Team

James Blaine Gillen

"JIM"

Started to fuss August 11, 1888, in Lawrence, but moved to Andover to be near the Fem. Sem., and entered the Academy in 1905. Everything went well till "Frenchy" loomed up on the horizon, and then "Jim" had to take a back seat. Harvard will occupy his mind (?) next year.

Class Football



Lawrence Cushing Goodhue

"CUSH"

First shook hands with himself some day in May, 1889, but now makes it a practice. His advice to succeeding classes is to "pull every wire you can get hold of", and "Cush" is a firm believer in the doctrine of "practise what you preach". However, he is a very agreeable fellow when he isn't in the jollying mood.

Business Manager Pot-Pourri and Class Book, 1906
Asst. Business Manager Pot-Pourri and Class Book, 1905
President of Philo Vice-President of Philo
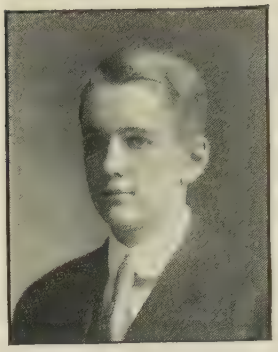
Secretary of Philo

Ross Adams Hatch

Entered Lowell, March 23, 1887, but was not in the least troubled by the date of his birth. In 1905 he came to Andover, where he has been heard from at intervals ever since. His great ambition is to become Emily's dog. In case he doesn't succeed he will go to Harvard.

Glee Club (2 years)



Charles Virgil Hickox, jr.

"HICK"

Smiled sweetly upon the inhabitants of Springfield, Ill., March 5, 1890, but changed his mind and became a boy. "Hick" advises succeeding classes to bring nerve tonics: supposedly because Andover is prohibition. Hickox will go to Yale.

Glee Club

Carroll Clark Hincks

"CARROLL"

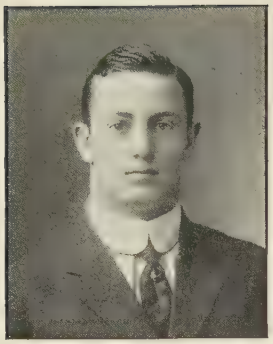
Just missed Thanksgiving day, 1887, arriving in Andover November 30, and has been running ever since to make up time. This has developed so much wind that he took to debating with much success. "Carroll" is one of the bright men of the class, and will go to Yale.

A. Γ. X.
President of Philo
Hockey Team (3 years)
Vice-President of Philo
Debating Union
Philo Debating Team

Harold Bartlett Johnson

Was born April 25, 1889, in Cattaraugus, N. Y., where he still lives. Johnson is a hard worker, and though he is a quiet and unassuming fellow he "gets there". Harvard.

Means Speaker (1st prize)



John Reed Kilpatrick

"KIL"

Broke all records and entered New York City, June 15, 1889. Four years ago "Kil" came to Andover, and has been winning races and friends ever since. He is our "best athlete" and "most popular" fellow; everyone likes him. We expect much from him at Yale.

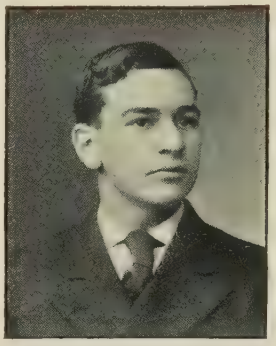
Gardner Carter Porter

"GARDNER"



Caused great wonder when he opened his eyes in Cambridge, Mass., February 1, 1890, and has since moved to Arlington, Mass. "Gardner" is known as a fusser and deserves the reputation. He is a first-class fellow and well liked by all who know him. Yale will take care of him next year.

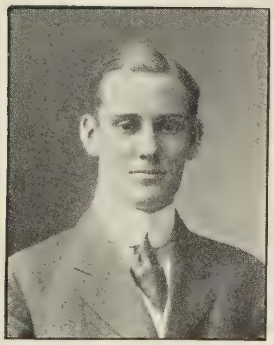
Lifted his countenance to the public view September 9, 1889, in Brooklyn, N. Y. Lloyd is a very versatile fellow, as is proved by his making a most charming girl in the vaudeville show. There is nothing like knowing how. Williams.

Glee Club

Charles Phinney Rodenbach

Was born May 20, 1889, in Naugatuck, Conn. He entered Andover in the fall of 1906, and he advises succeeding classes not to room in French's entry of Abbot. We second the motion. Rodenbach will go to Yale.



Lee Fernando Root

"LEE"

Loafed into Manhati, Minn., July 18, 1886, but later moved to Minneapolis, and, at last, in 1905, came to Andover, simply because he "couldn't help it". "Lee" is a good fellow, however, and has won many friends. He will go to Yale, but "we don't know when".

Took the Soothsayer's advice to "beware the Ides of March" and arrived on the 17th, 1889, in Grand Rapids, Mich., but wishing for something speedier moved to Pittsburg. He retired to Andover to recuperate, and will take up the struggle at Yale much rested by his sojourn here.

Robert Deyo Sherman

"BOB"

First called for more sauerkraut September 6, 1888, in New Windsor, N. Y., but later moved to Nyack. "Bob" came here last year, and has given us his opinion of the Fem. Sems. in unreadable Latin. "Verily, a man of much discretion!" Williams.

Harold Arnold Steiner

Was dropped into New York by mistake November 8, 1890, but like some others of the class, he was not in the least affected by the proximity of the salt water. Steiner wishes there were more class distinction at Andover, so that "Fresh Prep." Seniors wouldn't get hazed. Yale will do him good next year.

Abbot Stevens

"STEVE"

Raised a cloud of dust August 24, 1888, as he whirled into North Andover in a Packhard. In 1902, however, in an ambitious moment, he decided to come to Andover and has been here ever since. "Steve" is a first-class fellow and we all like him. Harvard.

Alaric King Swift

Was born at Vineyard Haven, Mass., November 17, 1888, and came to Andover four years ago for the same reason that all sensible people come, namely, because it is the best. Swift, however, is not so fast as might be supposed. He will go to Yale.

Theodore Kendall Thurston

George McNear Bowles

Looked through the Golden Gate, October 5, 1887, from Oakland, Cal., and still lives there. "George" thought the shortest way to get through the Golden Gate was to come to Andover first; so he came. He expects to get more help along the royal road at Yale next year.

Fred Enos Burnside

Was born January 2, 1887, in quiet Concord, N. H., but lacking "nerve stimulus" traveled westward in search of it, and now lives in Seattle, Wash. He was successful in his search, if we may judge by the wide-awake expression he wears. Sheff. for him.

His favorite amusement is watching Ely, but there are others. Princeton.

"HODEN"

Woke up (?) in Summit, N. J., on November 20, 1888. Was born in Sweden, May 3, 1886. He is an enterprising hard worker and much respected. We wish him the best of success at Sheff.

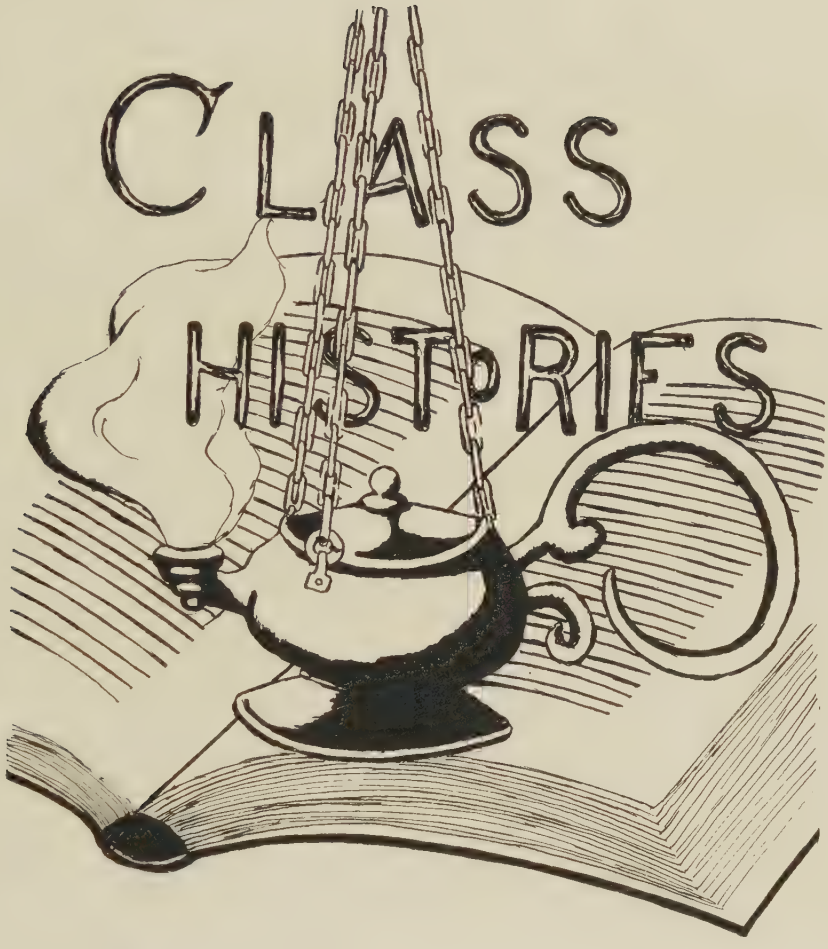
THE READING ROOM



CLASS

ON ANDOVER HILL

WHEN once we have entered into the spirit which lives on the old hill, when once we have commenced to see that there is something besides the hard work and hard play, something which pervades our life here, raises our ideals, increases our ambition, and throws a working, fighting, spirit into every department of every day life, then we begin to feel what it is to be an "Andover man." And there is no healthy, sane, American boy who can help feeling this spirit before he has lived long on Andover Hill. The fighting football team in the fall shows it, the long, hard pull together of the Winter term shows it, the baseball and track teams show it, and the hard, steady grinding; against odds or otherwise, on the field, in the class room or alone in the single struggle, shows it.

And it is this spirit, born of the traditions of the school, and supported through the years by those who have been proud to call themselves "Andover men," which, in turn, will make us proud to go out to join those strong "men in a world of men." It will surely help in after life to remember those long, ringing cheers which "stood behind the team" ahead or behind, and time and again helped to pull a victory out of defeat. It will surely help, also, to remember some of those times when we stayed up late with a Virgil, an Ovid, a Homer, or perhaps an Algebra. And it will always help in after-life to remember that strong, rough fellowship which taught us to respect each other, to respect ourselves, to live like men.

In college, or out in the world, that Andover spirit which came to us in the years on Andover Hill, will still be with us, and by its help and the Grace of God, we shall always remember how to win victories, and to meet the defeats which fall to our lot.

THE JUNIOR YEAR

FOR the most part, with tears in our eyes, we watched the train depart, bearing away our fond mamas and papas, and wished we were with them. But, somehow, we conquered our sorrow, and went to chapel, where we were told that "Mr. Eaton will meet classes IV and D in Room 4". That meant us, and we went in fear and trembling, to find that he only wished to make out our schedules.

The first week we lived in fear of the dread Shakesperians, and some of us did make their acquaintance, much against our will.

Then, when we had begun to become settled, the fall meet was held, where O'Donnell was our only representative to score.

Then came the big event of our Prep. life, the Exeter football game, where Captain Humbird's team went down in defeat, 14-11, in one of the closest and most exciting games in the history of the school. We were partially consoled, however, by defeating Lawrenceville the next week, 23-0, in the first game we had played them in a number of years. We had no men on the team, but Bartholomew made his 2nd.

Soon after Thanksgiving we were all called up to the "gym." to get strong under "Doc" Page's eagle eye, and to be initiated into the mysteries of the bars and rings.

Captain Hodge's hockey team had been hard at work whenever there was any ice, and they made an excellent record, although the snow greatly handicapped them. No men from the class of '07 made the team.

The entire basketball team, under Captain Humphries, had returned from the year before, and so there was no show for us there. The team had a conspicuously good record, defeating some of the strongest teams in New England.

In the meantime, the musical clubs had given their concerts with great success in Andover and Boston.

At the B. A. A. Interscholastic Meet, Andover was well represented, but no 1907 men won points.

We came back from our Easter vacation resolved to wipe out the football defeat by victories in both track and baseball, but again we were disappointed, for Captain Marshall's team was completely outclassed by the Exeter team, and lost by a large margin.

We won tennis, but Captain Clough's baseball team, although it defeated Yale for the first time, 5-3, was beaten by the narrow margin of 2-1 in a splendidly contested game.

So our "prep." year closed with defeat; three times had we been forced to lower our colors to our rivals, but we had three more years to look forward to in which to get even. The Andover spirit had taught us how to take defeats, and now we meant to learn how that same spirit won victories.

J. R. Kilpatrick.

THE SHAWSHEEN RIVER

JUNIOR MIDDLE YEAR

NOW that our life of prepdom was over, we felt a little more at ease when we landed at the station. We trudged up the never-ending hill to chapel, and saw many new faces about. By this time we knew that something would be doing before long, as we had learned from experience, and the Shakesperian Society would have some work on its hands.

On the day after we made out our schedules for the coming year. Captain Thompson's call for candidates for the football team was heard, and that afternoon sixty men turned out. The season opened by our beating Revere A. A. by a large score, and in a similar way the remaining teams suffered defeat until we met Exeter. In this game we were swamped by a score of 35-10. We must not judge that team by the score, for a pluckier and more faithful squad Andover has never boasted. All will agree that some men who ought to have been in the game were sitting on the side-lines. It wasn't our day; the luck was on the other side.

The winter term, as usual, brought our gym. classes and hard study — the dullest part of the year. In the course of this term we felt quite proud, for one of our class, Bartholomew, made an indoor record for the twenty-five yard dash, which is there to stay for a good while. The basketball team won steadily, and on Rabbitt's Pond, with Hincks and Reed representing '07, the hockey team had a successful season under Captain Howard.

The Junion Prom. came off with great success, but we were supposed to be in bed and not know anything at all of this.

Exeter gave us a beating in the relay race, but on account of the forced spring vacation in the spring term, caused by an epidemic of scarlet fever, no chance was given to try conclusions in the annual meet on May 30. The baseball team, under Captain Clough, had been working hard, and after beating Princeton and making Yale and Harvard work hard to win by a narrow margin, finally, on June 10, in a never-to-be-forgotten game, came off triumphant with a score of 6-4.

That night the old hill rang with cheers as it had not done for some time, and there, in the light of Andover spirit and friendships, we all vowed that the next year would see us all back to fight harder than ever in all departments, for ourselves and the school we had learned to love.

F. J. Daly.

MIDDLE YEAR

WITH September, 1905, the class of 1907 gathered for the third time at the call to return to work. We numbered one hundred and thirty-nine, and in the more elevated station as Middlers began to look about with an air of ownership.

We had no sooner arrived and shaken ourselves into place than we began to turn our attention towards Brothers' Field, where the football men, under Dr. O'Connor, as coach, were hard at work.

While the school was watching the development of the team for the game of November eleventh, 1907 calmly walked away with the Fall Track Meet, together with the class relay race. The relay team was composed of: Mears, Avery, Eldridge, Shannon, and Rafferty, manager.

On the night of November eleventh, Old Andover Hill was ablaze with torches and resounded with cheers, for the football team had covered itself with glory: Andover, 28; Exeter, 0. 1907 did much to gain the victory by having in the game such men as Daly, Bartholomew, and Avery.

The Winter Term greeted us as we stepped out into the old Andover station (since departed) on January 3rd, and what a cheering day it was! By a little swimming and much wading we reached chapel, where, to celebrate the event, we found cushions.

Basketball and Hockey now did their best to break the never-ending round of initiations and examinations. Jewett, Heintzmann, Foster and Waterman, in the rink, and Blumenauer and Whitney, on the basketball team, upheld 1907.

Our class continued to win laurels for herself by capturing the Winter Inter-Class Meet held in the gymnasium. Indeed, by this time, 1907 had established her name as an athletic class.

We did our best to enliven the School by giving our "Prom." to the Seniors on February 22, which was a decided success, and showed we could fill the part of the host as well as the athlete.

The term closed with the Spring Concert in the Town Hall, which 1907 helped to be the success it was, because of the number of men we had on the clubs and the able management of Eldridge.

For the last and best term we returned on April 13th. The basebal men had been out several days, and as soon as school began the track men were called out by Captain Bartholomew. 1907 had many men on both squads.

The record of the baseball team will never be forgotten. The nine defeated both Yale and Harvard, and, on June 10th, Exeter on Brothers' Field. For our class, Captain Reilly, Daly and Jones helped compose the nine.

But before the Exeter game the track team showed the result of its hard work by defeating Exeter, May 30th, on her home ground, in one of the closest meets ever held between the two schools. At the time the meet was given to Exeter, but later it was decided in favor of Andover. 1907's men did much to win points for the school. Captain Bartholomew, Kilpatrick, Mears, Greenough and Richmond all won points in this meet.

Still later in the spring the track team won the Harvard Interscholastic Meet at Cambridge.

Not long before the close of school a wandering German band, with its stirring (?) music, led the school into a questionable episode from which 1907 came out comparatively unscathed.

1906 showed her appreciation of 1907 by choosing Frost, a Middler, to the position of Class Poet.

Although school closed on the twenty-first of June, most of us, on account of our Yale preliminaries, remained at Andover through Commencement Week, separating for the summer on June 30th.

S. S. D.

SENIOR YEAR

ON the morning of September 21st the accustomed throng came up the hill to the chapel, with many new faces, however, among the old ones. The year, our year, the Senior year had commenced, and in the routine of studies and rush of events, the haze of forgetfulness gradually settled over the past summer. There was plenty at Andover to keep us busy.

The football team under the excellent coaching of Dr. O'Connor was doing great work on the gridiron. Among those who upheld the honor of the class of '07 were Captain Daly, Kilpatrick, Fisher, McKay, Clough and Greenough. The climax came on the tenth of November however, when in one of the closest and most exciting games ever played between the two schools, the crimson went down to defeat to the tune of "Andover Rah" 6-0. But in the excitement of the moment, the shadow of mourning had settled over the school and we went quietly home that night to think it over.

The wheels of the gymnasium now began to turn, and we found that we were a part of the next grist. Dr. Page, stern and immovable as the rock of Gibralter, stood at the controller with a deaf ear turned to all complaints and entreaties. Meanwhile a thick coat of ice on Rabbitt's and Pomp's ponds had freed the preps from much anxiety and afforded the hockey men much pleasure. Among those who held up '07's end of affairs in a very successful season were Hincks, Jewett, Foster, Shartenburg, McIntyre, Mitchell and Martin. On the gym floor the basket ball team was tearing things up in good shape, and Captain Blumenauer and Whitney were right there for '07. Manager Kilpatrick deserves credit for an excellent schedule.

After a few successes in the intercollegiate B. A. A. meet, on March 2, came the interscholastic and a strong team represented Andover. Volkman however had an exceptionally fine bunch of runners and took first place quite easily. Andover came in third, being just a fraction of a point behind Worcester. In this meet Captain Kilpatrick lowered the record for the hurdles to 6 1-5 seconds. But in the relay race, after Andover had held the lead for eleven and a half laps, the Exeter man finally succeeded in passing, and crossing the tape first. In nearly every other event, however, Exeter was forced to give place to Andover. Cooke represented '07 on the relay team, and Kilpatrick, one of the stars of the meet together with McKay, Clough, Badger and Dain were right there for '07.

In the social line the musical clubs had been breaking hearts (and strings) at Rogers' Hall and Miss Chamberlyne's school, and the record established at the fall concert was repeated in the spring. The Topical Song did good service (or tryed to) as often before. At the Junior Prom we all had a good time, and I am sure much credit is due to the class of "'08" for its success. The seniors were there in force, however, and lent a staid and respectable (?) appearance to the affair.

But all these are things of the past and now in the midst of Spring, somewhat late to be sure, but so much the more welcome, we are learning again all the deep meaning of life on Andover hill. The baseball team is working hard under Captain Reilly, and the prospects of beating Exeter on June eighth seem reasonably bright. McIntyre, Daly, Badger, Martin and Captain Reilly seem able to uphold '07's end of affairs in this branch of athletics. On the track things seem very favorable. At the spring meet J. M. Lewis broke the record in the pole vault, clearing the bar at eleven feet two inches and Cooke equalled the record of the one hundred yards dash, doing it in ten seconds.

In the Harvard meet, Andover walked away with first place, winning fifty points while Volkman the nearest rival secured but twenty-one. In this meet Captain Kilpatrick won twenty-one points, breaking his previous records of thirteen points in the Princeton meet and seventeen in the Yale meet, where Andover won second place. In short everything looks favorable for another clean sweep in Athletics and now, with the past full of struggles and successes, the present full of happiness and the joy of just living in the springtime and the golden light of the future shining gloriously over our Spanish castles, we are beginning to turn our attention towards graduation, and later, college. But no matter what feelings we may have held, or what thoughts we may have expressed in our angry moments, and no matter what struggles we may have lost or what things we may regret, I am sure we shall all feel just a touch of sadness, when the sun sets on the last day, for us, on the grand old school.

LITERARY

IN her prep year the class of 1907 had but two men on the publications, Goodhue on the Pot Pourri and Frost on the Mirror. Frost also led the Forum debating team. This was an excellent start, much better than most classes and gave promise of the success which the class would later attain along these lines.

The next year the Mirror was not issued but Malcolm on the Phillipian and Goodhue and Cooper on the Pot Pourri were creating a name for '07 in the publication line, and Frost spoke on the Means and led the Forum debaters again. Gemmer, also '07, was on the Forum team. S. S. Day was playing the perfect lady on the Dramatic Club.

The Middle Year our literary star came up early and lingered late. On the Phillipian were Day, Stevens, Marsh, Malcolm and Pierce while the Mirror had Frost, Thomas and Lancashire. Hodenpyl and Goodhue ran the business affairs for '06 on the Pot Pourri and Gemmer and Foster took prizes in the Means, Beach, likewish '07, also taking first in the Draper.

In debating Frost again led his followers to a victory over Philo, and at length, realizing the merit of '07, the class of '06 chose their class poet from their rival class, electing Frost a Middler, to that position.

And so with much success and encouragment behind, and much hard work ahead we at last entered on our Senior year, with many names of the literary sons of '07 inscribed on the roll call of the Publications. Marsh has proved a most efficient manager for the Phillipian and A. Stevens, Bell, Day, Tolles and Harris have also been busy on that paper. For the Mirror E. A. Stevens has been running business affairs while Foster is assistant managing editor. The Pot Pourri as usual, presents a solid front of '07 men, with Foster managing editor and Hodenpyl business manager, while Porter, W. R. Smith, Van Winkle, Bell and Riefkohl are also doing work on the annual.

In debating, Hincks, Wheeler and Foster were on the Philo team which however, was beaten by Forum, on whose team Gemmer played an important part. Hincks is president of the Union, while Gemmer, Kilpatrick and Foster are also members.

In the Means speaking contest Johnson and Foster took prizes, and Wheeler and Simpson also spoke well. The Draper and Potter contests have not been held yet but the seniors will certainly come off from the contests with honor, whereever the prizes may go.

This is, at best, but a poor summary of all the work accomplished by the members of the class of '07 along literary lines, and much must necessarily be passed over which is deserving of praise, much has undoubtedly been done which can hardly as yet be appreciated, but in looking back over the results of the past four years' work, there is much solid success to be seen, much of which the class of '07 has a right to be proud and it seems evident that in college, in years to come many of these names will be heard from, will help to raise the name of Andover to the position which we would have it hold in all branches of college work and in the world outside.

ATHLETICS

IN her "Prep." year, 1907 gained very little distinction along athletic lines, as is usually the way with "prep." classes. We made up, however, for our lack of representation on Captain Humbird's eleven by our loyal support and cheering, but in spite of all we could do Andover lost by the narrow margin of 14-11 in a game hard fought from start to finish. Bartholomew kept us from entire oblivion by winning his "2nd" at half-back.

On the exceptionally strong hockey and basketball teams that winter we were not represented. The saying is that misfortunes never comes singly, and that year was no exception to the rule, for we lost the relay at Boston and Captain Marshall's track team was defeated by an overwhelmning score. But not yet were our misfortunes ended, for the baseball team, which had defeated Yale early in the season by a score of 5-4, and upon which all our hopes were pinned, went down in defeat in a heartrending game, 2-1. O'Donnell made his track "A", and Reilly made short stop on the ball team for our class.

Our Junior Middle year started a little more auspiciously, for we won the class relay, and we were beginning to feel that we were not "Jonahs" when Captain Thompson's eleven defeated Lawrenceville, 36-2. But again we were doomed to disappointment, and this time on our own field, 35-10. Daly, Bartholomew, Driver, and Fisher won their letters, for our class, while "Ken" Merritt and Jones were on the second. Hincks and Reed made the hockey team, but again we were not represented in basketball. Daly was our supporter on the relay team, which was defeated by Exeter at the B. A. A.

The baseball team started off the season by defeating Princeton, and the track team was rapidly getting into shape when an epidemic of scarlet fever necessitated the closing of school for two weeks, on account of which the track meet was cancelled. The ball game took place, however, and at last we had a chance to celebrate, for we won 6-4. Reilly and Jones were right in the game for '07.

This was our first taste of victory, and we liked it so well that we again won the class relay, and Captain Hobbs' team won that ever-to-be remembered victory over the Exeter eleven by a score of 28-0. Bartholomew,

Daly, Avery, and Austin on the first, and Captain Fisher, Clough, Greenough, K. N. Merritt and Kilpatrick on the second, upheld 1907. On the very successful hockey and basketball teams we had Foster, Hincks, and Jewett on the former, and Blumenauer and Whitney on the latter. The winning habit had grown upon us, for Captain Bartholomew's track team and Captain Reilly's ball team each registered a victory, one by a score of 48 1-2 to 47 1-2, the other 3-2. The ball team also defeated Harvard, Yale, Amherst, Dartmouth, and Williams, a record to be proud of. 1907 only had Captain Reilly and Jones on the team, while Captain Bartholomew, Kilpatrick, and Holden made the track team.

The Senior year we started in with the right spirit, defeating Exeter 6–0 in a hard fought game. Capt. Daly, Greenough, Fisher, McKay, Clough, Mason and Kilpatrick upheld '07's part of affairs. As soon as the ice began to freeze, the hockey team got to work, and on the Gym. floor the basket ball team began to "look good." For '07, Hincks, Foster, Jewett, Shartenberg, Martin, McIntyre and Mitchell were busy in the rink and in the Gym, Capt. Blumenauer and Whitney were helping along a very successful season.

At the B. A. A. meet Andover showed up well, swamping Exeter but the men from Volkman had learned too well how to slip around the indoor track, and won first place. The relay team lost the lead on the last lap and allowed Exeter to win out. Cooke was the '07 member of this team.

During this last Spring term the track team has been working hard and every thing looks bright for a victory over Exeter. In baseball, also, prospects are bright, and Captain Reilly seems to be turning out a team which will be able to give us a celebration June eighth. Well, good luck to both track and baseball. Who knows but what we may make another "clean sweep". But there is a little element of chance in all these things, and, concerning this, as Cicero says, no one can say much. But it at least is left us to be proud of the past, and we have a past to be proud of. Concerning the future, we know not, but we have strong teams and — "Who knows, who knows ? "

DEDICATED TO THE LATIN CLASSES

When, O Teachers, do you mean to cease abusing our patience? How long are those lessons of yours still to mock us? When is there to be an end to this cramming us, or to what end will it lead us? Will neither our nightly vigils over books, nor our pleading hearts, nor our blood-shot eyes, nor our good work in class-room, move you in any way? Do you not see that it is doing us no good? Do not the looks and countenances of everyone here present plainly show you that we are hopelessly ignorant of what went on in class yesterday, the day before yesterday, or even the day before that?

THE KISSING MACHINE

There was an old flirt, as ugly as dirt,
Who had longed all her life for a kiss;
She looked all around but no man could be found
Who was willing to take such a risk.

She wept at the sight of men, running in fright
Whene'er at her face they did glance;
And they were so mean, she made a machine
To kiss her, and dressed it in pants.

This wonderful thing, when wound up with a spring
Would kiss her all over the face;
And a big spring inside threw his arms open wide
To give her a loving embrace.

She wound up his face, drew his arms 'round her waist,
— Vainly he strove to resist her;
She then pulled the string that started the spring,
But he refused absolutely to kiss her.

Then in anger she seized him; tightly she squeezed him
And kissed him again and again,—
– ! – – ! – – ! – – ! – – ! – – ! – – ! –
With a cry of despair, he flew up in the air, —
Said the maid, "You're as bad as the men!"

TOPICAL SONG

This chance to roast some fellows comes only once a year,
And we think it is a pity if we let it go by clear.
So if "knocking" will do any good to curb down some conceit,
We hope Reilly will take the hint, for his cannot be beat.

To a certain class of fellows we'd like to say a word,
Their actions and their sentiments are so totally absurd.
They walk and dress like humans, yet this they cannot be,
For a look at Hutkoff is enough to make a dead man flee.

When our recess came round this year on Washington's Birthday,
Some fellows from the Cheever House went in to see a play.
Their noise annoyed the players, and especially Blanche Ring,
Who pointed at their box and said, "Let the kindergarten sing".

The bunch of Preps. in school this year is a sight that's sad to see,
A fresher bunch we've never had in our academy.
But the one that's most in evidence, the loudest of them all,
Is Freeman, who'd be quiet now if he is in the hall.

There's Lancashire, whom we could stand if he would fail to talk,
But as soon as some one winds him up it's time for us to walk.
So when he asks us, "Ammi Wright," we answer "You are wrong,"
And meeting him upon the street make haste to move along.

While we are roasting Preps. so free, it's a pity to miss one
Who in our mind, and others too, can surely take the bun.
When Coleman comes upon the scene the grass begins to die,
The paint comes off the houses and the blue falls from the sky.

Of all our giddy ladies' men, the worst I sadly fear
Is Sargent, whom the girls declare is really quite a dear.
Now, of course, this may be true, but we think it's hot air,
What he reminds us of the most is a fuzzy Teddy bear.

Now while we speak of fussers there's one whom we must mention,
He is king pin of them all without the least exception.
Astride a horse he thinks he can make conquests by the score,
Sam Piza thus parades all day in front of Lowe's drug store.

When our principal is out of town, upon speech-making bent,
It leaves the chair in chapel without an occupant.
Professor Graves and "Bandy", too, they get up with the sun,
And neck and neck they race to see who'll be the lucky one.

As an orator, Fred Daly is certainly a peach,
When president of the Senior class he had to make a speech.
Fred got upon his feet, and then he stammered, blushed, and turned,
Said, "If there's no more business, well, the meeting stands adjourned."

The Mandolin Club, one snowy night, thought they would serenade
Our fair young friends from Abbot, so they came up near and played.
The only notice that they got was from the Fem. Sem. cop,
Who said, "Hie, look here, fellows, this racket's got to stop".

You all know Sammy Piza, of the greatest social fame,
As a chaser of the Fem. Sems. he sure has won a name.

But in a class, one day this year, poor, tired Sammy slept,
And if the bell hadn't wakened him he would be sleeping yet.

There is a fresh one in this school, his name is "Bobby" Gardiner,
His favorite stunt is throwing snow when your not looking after.
If he would quit this stunt I'm sure it would be fine,
But if he don't, I'd like to say Pomp's will be in his line.

Coombs works up in the gym. each day, he's trying to get strong,
He thinks he'll whip McCune, but in that we're sure he's wrong.
He eats so much at Jackson house, he ought to grow quite huge,
He's the first one in and last one out, for his six dollar food.

HUNTING TALES OF THE WEST

Roosevelt Four Handsome Volumes Given Free Roosevelt

Theodore Roosevelt has written four volumes relating his personal experiences in the West as a hunter of bear and bison, antelope and elk, cougars and wolves, and various other game. The books are those of a naturalist hunter, who studies while he hunts, and the account of his experiences is also an account of a vanishing and almost vanished West, with its frontiersmen, its pioneers and its cowboys.

We are giving these four volumes, in a special edition, bound in khaki sides and ooze leather backs (of the texture and color of buckskin) to every new subscriber for our magazine.

Our magazine, Current Literature, is a great news-magazine of politics, science, religion, art and the drama, as well as of literature in its narrower sense. It is copiously illustrated. A London editor has recently declared that it is "the best Magazine published in the world."

You don't send us any money until after you get the books. Write for full particulars to
